

we're here to help

All babies cry, but some cry more than others. One in five babies is fussy—difficult to comfort and may have trouble feeding and sleeping. For parents, caring for a fussy baby can be exhausting and frustrating.

There is no quick fix—but there is help. Call Fussy Baby Network® Colorado, our program for parents who have concerns about their baby's fussiness during the first year of life.

Our infant specialists will work with you to find more ways to soothe, care for, and enjoy your baby. We'll also explore ways to reduce stress while supporting you in your important role as a parent.

Fussy Baby
Network® Colorado
We're here to help.

Proudly serving moms, dads grandparents, foster parents, and caregivers of all kinds.

1-877-6-CRYCARE
(1-877-627-9227)
www.fussybabynetworkcolorado.org

Fussy Baby Network® Colorado is a collaborative project of The Kempe Foundation and the Harris Program in Child Development and Infant Mental Health, in partnership with the University of Colorado School of Medicine, The Children's Hospital, and community support. Grant support is provided by the Rose Community Foundation and the Irving Harris Foundation.

An affiliate of the Erikson Institute Fussy Baby Network®

call
1-877-6-CRYCARE
(1-877-627-9227)

you're not alone

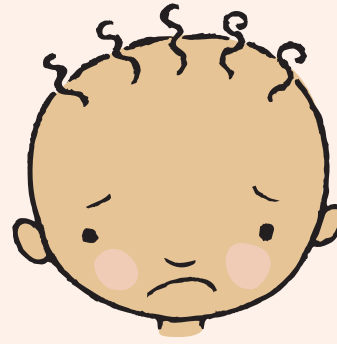

Fussy Baby
Network®
Colorado

“My baby cries so much.
I feel like crying too.”

“We’re all exhausted.
No one sleeps anymore.”

“We’re beginning to figure him out!”

Fussy Baby Network® Colorado offers a range of support services for you to choose from and all families are welcome. Services are at no cost and no family will be turned away. Services are also available in Spanish.

- Fussy Baby Warmline
- Fussy Baby Home Visitation Program
- Fussy Baby Clinic
- Community Connections

Fussy Baby Warmline

The Fussy Baby team is available to talk by phone. Please leave us a message and a team member will get back to you. Team members are available to listen, and to provide support and resources. Please call us at 1-877-6-CRYCARE (1-877-627-9227) or e-mail us directly at fussybabynetworkcolorado@gmail.com.

Fussy Baby Home Visitation Program

Infant specialists meet with you in your home to explore your concerns and offer support. We will talk about your baby’s day, think together about strategies to soothe and calm your baby, and explore ways that you can enjoy your baby more and begin to take care of yourself. Our pediatrician is also available to consult as needed.

Fussy Baby Clinic

The Fussy Baby team offers consultation through Pediatric Primary Care at The Children’s Hospital. If you are a patient at the Child Health Clinic, please talk to your provider about a Fussy Baby consultation by a member of our team.

Community Connections

The Fussy Baby team provides training and consultation to programs serving infants and families, and to the providers who care for them.

Fussy Baby
Network® Colorado

We're here to help.

1-877-6-CRYCARE

(1-877-627-9227)

www.fussybabynetworkcolorado.org